

FOHN Inaugural Annual Conference

Monday 17th June 2019, Bristol, UK

09.00	Registration opens
09.50 - 10.00	Conference welcome and opening FOHN Chief Operating Officer Christina Butterworth
10.00 - 10.35	Why write, how to do it well, and how you can change the media conversation around Occupational Health Nic Paton, Editor of Occupational Health and Wellbeing Magazine
10.35 - 11.10	The lone autonomous practitioner: the case for a tailored approach to clinical supervision Suzanne Pemberton, Clinical Safety Consultant
11.10 - 11.30	Refreshments and Exhibition
11.30 - 12:05	Well-being at work – what does this mean for OH nursing? Nancy Hey, Director, What Works Wellbeing
12.05 - 12.50	The working lungs; how best to keep them healthy! Professor David Fishwick, Chief Medical Adviser, HSE GB and HSE NI and Consultant Respiratory Physician
12.50 - 13.50	Lunch, Exhibition and Networking
13.50 - 14.25	Addiction in the workplace – my own Journey Hannah Edgell, Admissions Co-ordinator, ADT healthcare
14.25 – 15.00	Creating an excellent report, and avoiding common pitfalls, from a legal perspective Liam Entwistle, Partner, Wright, Johnston & Mackenzie LLP
15.00 - 15.15	Refreshments and Exhibition
15.15 - 15.50	Quality work? Pay, workload and job satisfaction of OH professionals Dr John Ballard, Director, The At Work Partnership
15.50 - 16.00	Closing comments FOHN Chief Operating Officer Christina Butterworth

FOHN is kindly supported by

